MANCHESTER AIRPORT ANNOUNCES PARKING RATE CHANGES

New Rates Effective February 16, 2004

(Manchester, NH...) Additional operational expenses associated with increased airport security measures and recent facility and infrastructure improvements necessitate a change to short-term and garage parking rates at Manchester Airport. As of February 16, 2004, the charge for the first six hours in short-term parking will increase from $1.00 to $2.00 per hour. The daily maximum for the parking garage will increase by $1.00 to $15.00 per day, with the weekly maximum remaining at $70.00. The airport's daily long-term parking rate will also remain at 8.00 per day with free shuttle service to the terminal.

"In the past several years, Manchester Airport has incurred significant additional costs related to security enhancements and new construction," says Airport Director Kevin A. Dillon. "We feel that these minor parking rate adjustments will have little impact on our individual passengers, but will collectively have a significant positive impact on our annual operating budget. These new parking rates are still great values for air travelers and are below parking rates charged at most other New England airports. It's important to remember that Manchester Airport does not receive any tax dollars and relies on the revenue it generates to operate the airport."
